THE GLASS HOUSE
Anne Buist & Graeme Simsion
Paperback RRP $32.99
Psychiatry registrar Doctor Hannah Wright, a country girl with a chaotic history, thought she had seen it all in the emergency room. But that was nothing compared to the psychiatric ward at Menzies Hospital. Hannah must learn on the job in a strained medical system, as she and her fellow trainees deal with the common and the bizarre, the hilarious and the tragic, the treatable and the confronting. Every day brings new patients: Chloe, who has a life-threatening eating disorder; Sian, suffering postpartum psychosis and fighting to keep her baby; and Xavier, the MP whose suicide attempt has an explosive story behind it. All the while, Hannah is trying to figure out herself. With intelligence, frankness and humour, eminent psychiatrist Anne Buist tells it like it is, while co-writer Graeme Simsion brings the light touch that made The Rosie Project an international bestseller and a respected contribution to the autism conversation.

INDIE BOOK AWARDS 2024 WINNERS

Black Inc.

Australian independent booksellers have announced Killing for Country: A Family Story by David Marr as the Indie Book Awards 2024 Book of the Year. The Indie Book Awards are chosen by the country's independent booksellers who select their favourite Australian books published in the previous calendar year.

The individual category winners, in Fiction, Non-Fiction, Debut Fiction, Illustrated Non-Fiction, Children's and Young Adult, were also announced. From these six category winners the independent booksellers selected the best of the best – the Indie Books Awards 2024 Book of the Year.

WINNER BOOK OF THE YEAR AWARD 2024 & CATEGORY WINNER NON-FICTION

Killing for Country: A Family Story by David Marr

Judges' Comments: 'A magisterial book that will retain its value for years to come, this is a grim and brutal subject handled in a measured and thoroughly researched way. It is not easy reading, but it is necessary reading. Marr's meticulous research and careful prose tell the brutal colonial history of Indigenous dispossession through the greed and avarice of the squatters, the murderous barbarity of the lawless Native Police, and the criminal hypocrisy and wilful blindness of the governing class, both in Australia and Britain. Read it and weep, then be even more grateful and amazed by the dignity and graciousness of the Indigenous people who welcome us to country.'

CATEGORY WINNERS

UQP

CATEGORY WINNER FICTION

Edenglassie
by Melissa Lucashenko

Judges' Comments:

'Lucashenko at her very best. A refreshingly honest portrait of Brisbane life in the early days of British colonisation. This timely novel challenges readers to look at the ridiculousness of Terra Nullius and the harsh truths of Australian history to imagine or give hope to a future that is different to the one we are experiencing.'

Fourth Estate

CATEGORY WINNER DEBUT FICTION

The Visitors
by Jane Harrison

Judges' Comments:

'This novel is set in Gadigal Country from the perspective of seven First Nations Elders, who must decide whether to let a "boat" land in January 1788. Harrison skilfully upholds that same level of tension throughout the book, despite the fact we already know the ending. This is a highly clever and creative book that should be required reading for all Australians.'

NLA

CATEGORY WINNER ILLUSTRATED NON-FICTION

The Bird Art of William T. Cooper
by Wendy Cooper

Judges' Comments:

'Cooper was one of our pre-eminent ornithological illustrators, and this splendid book shows why. The thought processes of an artist and the acute observations of a naturalist are demonstrated by the deceptively simple pencil and ink, and the small but telling notes alongside. Combined with gorgeous reproductions of the finished works leaves the viewer no doubt as to the talent of the artist.'

Allen & Unwin

CATEGORY WINNER CHILDREN'S

The Impossible Secret of Lillian Velvet
by Jaclyn Moriarty

Judges' Comments:

'Lillian Velvet is a character who refuses to be forgotten. Jaclyn's flair for finding the perfect balance between humour and genuine magic is the reason I love the Kingdoms and Empires list so much. The Impossible Secret of Lillian Velvet is one of those books that feels too precious to try and explain for fear of cheapening its quirky genius.'

Hardie Grant

CATEGORY WINNER YOUNG ADULT

Welcome to Sex
by Dr Melissa Kang & Yumi Stynes

Judges' Comments:

'This is an excellent resource for young teens. The information is presented in a friendly, inclusive and accessible way, progressing from body basics through to the bigger questions about sex and relationships. It focuses strongly on consent, respect, and autonomy while providing facts and information that can be awkward and difficult to discuss in person.'
